Gems and Oddities of the Portuguese Colonies Part III

by Steve Bonowski

I hope you have enjoyed the first two installments of this series. For the third and final installment, I elected to pass on presenting the 1945-1974 time period covering the end of World War II until de-colonization for all territories (except Macau, which went to 1999). Rather, I will present and discuss some interesting items from my primary albums, duplicates and not-yet-mounted files.

The first items presented are a pair of early native issues from Portuguese India. The early issues were generally created by hand with the denominations applied by a hand-stamp, one stamp at a time (See Figure 1, left). Needless to say, this handstamping process resulted in the creation of numerous varieties, double printings and misaligned numerals in the denominations. On the right (See Figure 2, right) is an example of a denomination double-print variety. The stamp has an ISPP certificate (International Society for Portuguese Philately) indicating the stamp has a thin. This stamp is unvalued in the Scott Catalog. The Mundifil Catalog lists the stamp at €3100 (about $3450). Having an example of this stamp, even with a thin, is better than having none.

Sometime around 1957 many of the postage stamps of Portuguese India were "delisted" from the Scott Catalog (See Figure 3, left). This action accounts for many of the missing numbers for Portuguese India from #260C-#407. The Mundifil Catalog has an expanded listing, without pricing, of the missing stamps and makes use of the term "local clandestina (local forgery)" when referring to the stamps. The local clandestina stamps are attributed to the staff of the Casa de Moeda (the Portuguese mint and national press responsible for printing stamps and currency). While the Scott Catalog no longer lists these stamps, they do exist and are actively collected.

From the Desk of the President -

by Tonny Van Loij

It is hard to believe that a quarter of the year is gone. I hope that everyone has made it without sickness or other problems. The days are getting longer and as the weather gets better its time to attend stamp shows and expand our collections.

We just had another successful auction at the end of February and with this mailing of Scribblings, the newest auction catalog will be enclosed. This auction will be held at the Rocky Mountain Stamp Show at the end of May. The people in charge did a fantastic job with the catalog, scanning pictures and layout.

Dasa Metzler, the Library Stamp Manager and volunteer recruiter, will be absent from the Library for an extended period of time due to illness. Rich Palestro has been working hard to step in and take care of donations. We continue to receive good material that needs to be sorted, checked and placed into the stock books or selected for inclusion in future auctions.

I am sorry to report that Mike Milam, another member of the volunteer staff, passed away in December 2021. Mike was a long time member of the Library and volunteered his time recording incoming periodicals and stamp club information. He was involved with the Rocky Mountain Stamp Show for many years and was a member of several local stamp clubs. Mike was an accredited philatelic judge and worked many of the local shows as well as a number of national stamp shows.

Our regular group of volunteers has been working very hard to provide the level of support you have come to expect. We recently had to reduce the hours of operation at the Library due to the shortage of volunteer staff. A number of new members have pledged to help but we can always use more. With Dasa's unexpected illness and the death of Mike the core Library volunteer staff is hard pressed to continue providing all the regular services to our membership.

This week we had new air conditioner/heating units installed on the 2048 building thanks to Dennis Nyberg, Steve Schweighofer's son-in-law. We will be saving enormously on material and labor costs. So when you visit the RMPL and see these people, please say thank you for all they do.

I hope to see everyone at the Rocky Mountain Stamp Show.

Tonny

LIBRARY VOLUNTEERS WANTED

We need additional help in almost every area of RMPL operations, especially back-ups for publishing and stamp mart operations. If you are interested in becoming more active with the RMPL, whether it is helping publish Scribblings, sorting donations for our stamp mart, or helping with library maintenance please contact the Library at 303-759-9921.

BOOKKEEPER WANTED

The Library is searching for a new bookkeeper. The position requires an individual with good computer skills and familiarity with QuickBooks for non-profits. If you are interested, or know of someone, interested in the position please call 303-759-9921.

2022 ROCKY MOUNTAIN STAMP SHOW

This is the last call for volunteers to step up to the plate and commit a few hours of their time to help at the upcoming stamp show. We have had a number of individuals come forward and this is greatly appreciated. However, additional volunteers are needed to manage the registration desk, assist with floor management, help with cachet sales and we need a hearty team to set up and take down the exhibit display frames. Please contact Ron Lampo at chairman@rockymountainstampshow.com for more information on volunteering.

SECOND SATURDAY PROGRAMS NEEDED

Sponsored by the RMPL, the Second Saturday programs are generally about an hour long and focus on a specific subject. The subject matter is not limited to philately. Attendance is open to anyone who has a desire to learn something new about a specific subject, or enjoys discovering something new about an area of philately unfamiliar to them. Please contact Jim Kilbane at: aurora\_80017@yahoo.com for more information.

Between 1891 and 1929, the Nyassa Company, mostly British owned, had a concession in the two northern provinces of Mozambique, Cabo Delgado and Niassa. In 1901, Waterlow & Sons, London, England, printed the third stamp issue in sheets of fifty stamps for the Nyassa Company. The stamps are pictorial issues featuring various animals and a portrait of King Carlos. Soon after the release of the stamps one sheet of each denomination was discovered with inverted centers (See Figure 4, left). In 1922, Waterlow & Sons printed twenty additional sheets of each error value. This provided an additional 1,000 error stamps of each value, to satisfy the demand from collectors. The Scott Catalog footnotes the invert errors with a value of $80 in unused condition. The Mundifil Catalog values each invert at €110 (about $120) in unused, hinged condition. ISPP expertizers are able to determine if an invert is an original issue or one of the reprints.

Figure 5, 1902, St. Thomas and Prince Islands, Scott Catalog #163, valued in unused condition at $900. The Mundifil Catalog lists the stamp in the same condition for €1,000 (about $1,100).

The majority of the República overprints from 1911-1915 are inexpensive and readily available to collectors. Due to low demand and quantity some issues are quite expensive (See Figure 5, left).

The ubiquitous Ceres issues of 1913-1933 are well known for printing varieties, plate flaws and errors (See Figure 6, right). The Ceres stamps required two passes through the printing press - one to print the basic stamp image and color, the second to add the denomination and country name.

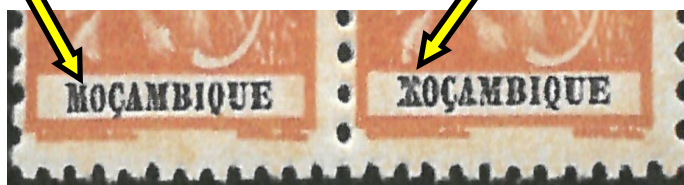

Figure 6, 1919, Macau, Scott Catalog #226a, inverted country and denomination. Scott Catalog values the unused stamp at $50.

Many plates were used to print the Ceres issues and sometimes mishaps occurred. This variety shows what happened when a letter broke on a printing plate. The broken "M" in Moçambique becomes an "X" changing the country name to "Xoçambique." The Scott Catalog does not list this variety but it is found in the Mundifil Catalog (See Figure 7, below). The four different broken plate varieties are listed at €20 each (about $22) in the Mundifil Catalog.

In the 1920s, as a plate wore out individual pieces on the plate were replaced or repaired. This pair of stamps from Angola is an example of the Die Type I and Die Type II (See Figure 8, below). The differences are subtle with the most obvious being the incomplete black line at the bottom of the right-hand shield resulting in a white space. The stamp on the left is a Die Type II, the stamp on the right is a Die Type I with the added bonus of a missing "C" in the right hand shield.

Examples of Ceres stamps with "socked on the nose" (SON) cancellations (See Figure 9, left) are uncommon due to the stamp design and the size of cancellations. This example is a cherished prize.

The genuine stamp has two stars in the country tablet, the stars are missing on the forgeries.

The accent over the letter "E" in Portuguese Guiné is noticeably different on the forgeries (See Figure 11, top right).

These forgeries are also noteworthy for having noticeable horizontal gum ridges on the reverse (See Figure 12, right).

In conclusion, I would be happy to try and help answer any questions about the fascinating philatelic world of the Portuguese colonies. You can reach me in care of the RMPL.

Happy stamping.

World's First Postage Due Stamp

Many consider this to be the world's first postage due stamp, it was issued by France in 1859. A postage stamp shows that payment was made for the delivery of the mail. A postage due stamp shows that full payment was not made for the delivery of the mail. The problem of what to do with letters not paying the correct postage fee has existed since the beginning of regular postal systems. Many countries returned short-paid mail to the sender, some delivered the mail and attempted to collect the fee from the recipient. In 1874 the Universal Postal Union addressed the issue of short-paid foreign mail. The UPU decided a letter "T" (Taxe=Due) would mark short-paid foreign mail with the short-paid amount written in black. On October 1, 1907, the rules changed. The amount to be charged, usually double the short paid amount instead of the missing amount, would be indicated.

France, 1859,
Scott Catalog #J1

Covering the World

Interesting covers from around the world.

French and Russian Post Offices in the Ottoman Empire

This registered cover was mailed in 1913 from Kerassunde, a city in the Ottoman Empire with a Russian overseas post office, to Denver. Postage was paid using stamps of the French post offices in the Ottoman Empire. The French and Russian post offices are in a part of the Ottoman Empire known as the Levant, most of which is in present-day Turkey. A French Levant postal card is also shown here, sent from Kerassunde to Denver to the same addressee but by a different writer. Why were stamps and a postal card, issued by France, used for mailings from a Russian post office?

Before and during WWI, six countries, including France and Russia, established their own post offices in cities in the Levant. This was done at least partly because the postal system in the Levant was considered to be slow and unreliable. France had post offices in 23 cities (but not Kerassunde) from 1812-1923 while Russia had 12 post offices from 1863-1914.

Initially, the French post offices used the postage stamps of France. Starting in 1902, stamps of three French designs were reissued with the inscription "LEVANT". Denominations of the low values were in francs and centimes; high values were surcharged in piastres. The stamps on this cover and on the card reflect the changes made in 1902. Both the French and Russian post offices closed on October 13, 1914 due to World War I.

The letter was mailed in Kerassunde in 1913; the postmark is illegible. From transit and registration marks on the back, it traveled via Constantinople (August 19), to New York City (August 30), arriving in Denver on September 21, 1913.

The franking is 3 piastres (0.75 francs) + 10 centimes (0.1 francs) for a total of 0.85 francs. If one assumes that the rates are the same as those from France to the US, then postage is 0.25 francs per 15g and the registration fee is 0.25 francs. If the letter weighed 15-30 grams, then postage + registration would be 0.75 francs. The stamps overpay the fee by 0.1 francs (the two 5 centime stamps appear to be unnecessary). However, it seems odd that these two stamps would have been added unless they served a purpose. Perhaps they paid an internal fee for mail from Kerassunde, on the southern edge of the Black Sea, to Constantinople on the western end of the Levant.

However, this does not address the original question regarding usage of French (Levant) postage on mail from a city with a Russian overseas office. Perhaps the letter and card were mailed at a local post office in Kerassunde, not the Russian overseas office. This might have been possible if the stamps issued for the French Levant were valid anywhere in the Levant, not just at French overseas post offices. Can one of our readers provide more information? Likewise, there was no information available about the Denver addressee.

Send images and a description of your interesting covers for future issues of this column.

Sydney Views are interesting classic stamps and favorites of many famous early stamp collectors. Issued on January 1, 1850, and designed by Robert Clayton, each value was hand-engraved on copper plates of 24-25 positions by separate local engravers. With hundreds of different plate positions, various shades and paper types, the Sydney Views and Laureates of New South Wales offer an enticing area of philatelic complexity for collectors.

The Legend of Xocomil (Guatemala)

Guatemala, 2013,
Scott Catalog #677

The legend of Xocomil is actually quite lengthy. This is a small portion of a greater story. Lake Atitlan, located in the western highlands of Guatemala, is surrounded by three majestic volcanoes. The water on the lake is usually clear and calm in the morning. However, every afternoon white caps roll over the entire lake. From this, the legend of Xocomil was born. Two kingdoms lived in the region. They were ruled by kings, queens, princes, and princesses and were at constant war with each other. One day, a prince from one kingdom and princess from the other, met and fell in love. When the two opposing kings found out, they condemned the prince and princess and prevented their seeing each other. The two lovers refused to accept this and met secretly on the lake. The kings found out about the secret meetings and sent warriors to bring them back. Tragedy struck and the boat the prince and princess were in sank and they drowned. Legend says their two souls have lived in the water since that time. Each afternoon their souls come out to dance and make love causing the winds and heavy white caps stirring up the calm waters of the lake. The lake is hard to navigate during this period and most ferry trips and pleasure sight-seeing trips are scheduled for the morning or after 4:00 PM.

- 6) Bill recommended combining this bequest with $24,000 from the checking account and placing $100,000 into the Vanguard account.
- 7) A motion was passed to transfer these funds to Vanguard.

OLD BUSINESS

Integrated register/bookkeeping system: Current bookkeeper Eddie Hackstaff is working on a different bookkeeping platform that can align with our current cash register system.

Upgrading library Internet to Xfinity: This project is tabled since conversion to Xfinity would cost $11,000.

Change in Library hours:

- 1) Due to declining membership, the potential pool of volunteers has diminished.
- 2) Additionally, volunteer availability for closing shifts is challenging because people don't want to be caught in afternoon traffic.
- 3) Library attendance (including volunteers) between the hours of 2:00 PM and 4:00 PM from November. 19, 2021 through January. 8, 2022 was 3% of total attendance.
- 4) Decreasing hours of operation would save on energy costs and allow 2 volunteers for one shift a day instead of 2 shifts.
- 5) A motion was passed to change hours of operation to 10:00 AM to 2:00 PM Monday-Saturday starting March 1, 2022.

- 6) The change in hours will be published in the next edition of Scribblings.

NEW BUSINESS

Rocky Mountain Stamp Show (RMSS)

- 1) Steve suggested the possibility of the library being a sponsor for the RMSS.
- 2) This suggestion was tabled until the next meeting when Ron Lampo (president of the RMSS committee) will attend and discuss the need for our sponsorship.
- 3) A motion was passed to use $1350 for three tables for the silent auction at RMSS.

Roger Rydberg:

- 1) Roger purchased a computer and programs for use related to his duties as membership chairman and asked to be reimbursed for some of these expenses.
- 2) A motion was passed to grant him $600.

Meeting room rental:

- 1) A non philatelic club has expressed interest in renting the meeting room on ongoing basis.
- 2) Since there are security and liability issues, Steve will get more information and report at the next meeting.

Guatemalan stamp collection:

- 1) A specialized Guatemalan collection of 250 volumes is owned by a collector in Great Britain who is willing to pay all expenses to transport the collection to RMPL if we agree to store the volumes.
- 2) Rod Haenni and Dave Reitsema will handle the transaction.

Policy and Procedure manual:

- 1) To provide consistency in process and practice without changing bylaws, a motion was passed to create a RMPL policy and procedure manual.
- 2) Eric Carlson will spearhead this project.

Closing remarks: To free up shelf space in the library, Steve will be moving older periodicals to the annex.

The Meeting was adjourned at 5:50 p.m.

The next Board meeting is March 24, 2022.

Respectfully submitted,

Regina Domenici, Recording Secretary

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY

On May 2, 1934, the United States issued its first, and only, stamp specifically commemorating Mother's Day. President Franklin D. Roosevelt played a part in designing the stamp, Scott Catalog #737 (rotary press) and #738 (flat-plate press). The Mother's Day stamp features the image of James Abbot McNiell

Whistler's Arrangement in Grey and Black #1, better known as Whistler's Mother. Over 193 million stamps were printed on the Bureau's rotary press, more than 15 million stamps were printed on the flat-plate press. We have to mention these stamps were also part of the "Farley's Follies" released in 1935, Scott Catalog #754.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARIAN

Thanks to Don Beuthel and Web Stickney, we have expanded our Western History section of the library. That's right, we have an entire room of Western History in the library. The room covers everything from railroads to mining to the governor's mansion. From the most esoteric to the most general we probably have it. We also have books relating to many other western states from California to Montana. If you need to find some information about Western history, you now know where to look.

NOTES FROM THE EDITOR

This issue of Scribblings is the last before the Rocky Mountain Stamp Show, the first show after a two-year hiatus. Planning and coordinating for the show is a monumental task and is in the final stages of preparation. Ron Lampo, Chairman of the Show, has provided a few details: 25 dealers are committed to attending, over 350 exhibit frames are reserved, there are six visiting societies, we are hosting the George Brett Cup competition, the Library is conducting its 28th Silent Auction featuring over 750 individual lots and the ever popular "What's in Your Attic?" is returning. I hope to see you at the show. You can find me at the Youth Booth. While visiting the show, take a few moments from your fervent treasure hunting and thank the volunteers and staff who have made this show possible.
